DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-2, 14-15, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kobayashi (U.S. Patent No. 6,839,168). Kobayashi teaches a reflection screen apparatus comprising a screen reflection surface 21 which visibly diffuses and reflects the image projected by the projector 100 and a light distribution correction section 80 configured to change a state of the distribution direction. The language “..so as to more reflect a diffused light reflected on the screen reflection surface to the observer” is considered intended use and has not been given patentable weight. 100 comprised a luminous flux incident angle detection section 41/5 configured to detect an angle of the projected light and change the state of distribution (by changing the tilt angle of the screen) based on the light detection. The applicant is directed to review the abstract and the figures.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 18-20 and 22 are allowed.

Claims 3-13 and 16-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
